By The Associated Press
A clash of German and Soviet Russian interests as a result of the Red Army's march into Bessarabia and northern Bucovina appeared today in Nazi reaction to the Soviet union's triumph in Rumania.

Officials of the German legation at Bucharest charged that the Russian coup was a British-inspired trick to create a new front for the European war but that Germany would act only if her own territorial and economic interests were damaged.

Germany, they argued, is more immediately concerned with smashing Great Britain.

These quarters said frankly that Germany had advised Rumania to accede to Russia's demands on the grounds that it was only "a temporary adjustment" and that Germany "definitely will settle things later."

Germany cannot permanently permit Russia to dominate the mouth of the Danube and northern Bucovina, the Germans asserted. The Danube is one of Germany's lifelines and, aside from that, they declared that Red dominance would block Germany's military approaches to the Black sea.

War Like Maneuvers
King Carol II's little Balkan kingdom of Rumania, after yielding to a stiff Russian ultimatum, rushed most of its 2,000,000 troops to the Hungarian frontier.

Hungary and Bulgaria called up reserves.

Turkey sent her fleet into the Black sea, stripped for action and ready to defend the Dardanelles against any attack.

The situation was becoming hourly more grave, threatening to explode the famous Balkan "powderkeg" in a clash of bitter and age-old racial hatreds.

Bulgarian regulars were sped by train from the Turkish frontier to the Rumanian border.

Official quarters in Bucharest said they were informed that Hitler had sent a telegram to Josef Stalin asking the Soviet dictator to "meet Rumania half-way."

Ambitions Untempered
By contrast, there was no tempering of the Nazi leader's ambitions in the war with Britain. Authorized sources in Berlin stated bluntly that Germany's reply to any peace feelers from London is this:

"Cannons are speaking". The British already have denied any peace overtures.

Russian troops, heavily reinforced by tanks and planes, poured across the Rumanian frontier shortly after dawn—swiftly following up the Russian ultimatum to Rumania which expired at 10 p. m. (2 p. m. C. S. T.) yesterday—and occupied four cities in the ceded provinces of Bessarabia and Bucovina.

It was not known immediately whether King Carol appealed to Hitler for actual military help to combat the Soviet invasion or merely asked the German fuhrer to intercede diplomatically for moderation of Russia's stiff demands.

The king had yielded "in prin-horns before its expiration, but had hours before its expiration, but had pleaded for time to negotiate.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Russia's successful ultimatum to Rumania, demanding sweeping concessions which include cession of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina, is to my mind largely a strategic defensive move against Germany in particular and the axis partners in general.

The thunder from the unimpeded charge of the great German war-machine across Europe is beginning to rattle the windows of Moscow's Kremlin.

The Bolshevik action has sent sparks showering about the open Balkan power-keg. The situation is tense and there is danger of an upheaval in this cock-pit of southeastern Europe.

If the Muscovites don't encounter any snag in carrying out this sudden maneuver which further scrambles the already unrecognizable map of Europe, the Reds not only will acquire fresh territory but secure a large degree of control over this important Balkan state which Hitler had staked out for himself.

This is calculated to improve the Soviet's military position, and further safeguard its interests in the Balkan peninsula and the Near East.

The Berlin attitude that Germany is disinterested under such conditions can be dismissed as just another way of saying that nazism doesn't want to talk. Equally unsatisfying is the idea in some diplomatic quarters that the Bolsheviks are acting with the approval of Germany.

Herr Hitler isn't likely to abandon his ewe lamb in such fashion. If he appears to acquiesce it is because forsooth there is very little else he can do about it, in view of his commitment to perform the considerable task of dismembering the British empire. The fact that King Carol appealed to Hitler for help shows how the wind lies.

Moreover, the fuhrer can't afford to have a war started in the Balkans, because he is depending greatly on this area to feed his people in case the conquest of England gives him trouble and the British blockade continues to cut him off from food supplies.

Control of Rumania certainly is a matter of vital concern to Berlin. Here is the oil which is all-important to Germany, especially for war. Here are wide grain fields to help fill her cavernous bins.

Here the great Danube river, which winds its navigable way through one of the principal wheat growing areas of the world clear into Germany, empties into the Black sea and forms one of the Reich's lifelines. One of the dreams of Field Marshal Goering, Hitler's second in command, has been to link the Danube and the Rhine and thus give Germany a through waterway from the Baltic to the Black sea.

The Russian demands are said to give Moscow control of the

MORE MONEY FOR ARMY PURPOSES

Request Sometime
Coming Week

Washington, June 28—(AP)—President Roosevelt indicated today that increased appropriations would be sought for the army, but offered no suggestions on the amount.

He intimated that the added funds would be used to place large orders for defense equipment.

Asked at a press conference whether it had been brought to his attention that the army was drafting a program involving new and large amounts, the Chief Executive asserted that probably the best way to put it was like this:

When new production facilities are created, it is cheaper in the long run to give a sufficiently large order to keep them going at least for a while.

It is now being determined, he said, whether in some fields of procurement it would not save money to give expanded orders now, to assure industry it would get part of its money back.

It had previously been reported that Roosevelt intended to seek an immense boost in the defense program that would more than double the $5,082,310 already appropriated and shattered the arms bill of the peak World War year.

The Chief Executive announced these additional steps in the defense program:

New Defense Steps
Donald M. Nelson, newly-appointed treasury procurement officer, will coordinate all national

Power Was Off

Washington, June 28—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would be glad to talk about foreign affairs with Wendell L. Willkie, Republican nominee for president.

Asked at his press conference whether he would have any trouble getting together with Willkie on foreign affairs, the chief executive asserted that he would be glad to talk with Willkie at any time.

But when reporters inquired whether he had anything to say on politics, Roosevelt replied that he thought not, as he had been pretty busy on other things.

He opened his press conference in a jovial mood, apologizing for being late and explaining that his elevator wasn't working because someone turned off power.

Grinning, he said he was hoping it had no connection with what happened at Philadelphia where utilities executive Willkie was nominated.

defense purchasing for all agencies involved in the program. Daniel J. Tobin, president of the American Federation of Labor teamster's union, has been named a presidential administrative assistant and will come in Sunday afternoon to talk over with Roosevelt his new duties.

Tobin's specific functions are not yet ready for announcement, but Mr. Roosevelt expects him to be a general handy man.

James Forrestal, appointed an administrative aide last week, has been asked to serve as the President's legs and ears for coordination purposes in working out the program for Pan-American economic defense.

May Come Next Week

Usually well informed sources said last night that the army fund request might be ready for submission to Congress next week.

The exact amount of the forthcoming request was not disclosed by these sources, but they did say that if the funds were voted the nation's arms expenditures for the coming fiscal year would surpass the all-time record output of $11,011,387,000 for the 12 months beginning July 1, 1918.

Roosevelt, it was said, will ask Congress to make the additional billions available without delay so that the army can place more orders at once for planes, tanks and other weapons. The projected

Two Eastern Lee
Men Injured in Peculiar Mishap

(Telegraph Special Service)

Rochelle, June 28—Stoddard Danekas of Reynolds township and William Ravnaas of Alto township, Lee county, suffered painful injuries in a peculiar accident on the Lincoln highway in Rochelle's business district this morning, both sustaining fractured legs when they were pinned between two automobiles.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Joseph Burke, who lives near Rochelle, lost control of her automobile, after backing out of a parking space and sideswiping a car driven by Mrs. Frank Casey of Creston. The Casey car was not badly damaged but the impact threw Mrs. Burke's car out of control and it ran across the street, striking a parked car belonging to Mrs. Thomas O'Neil and pushing it into a car ahead. The two Lee county men were crossing the street between the two automobiles and were pinned. Ravnaas' left leg was broken between the hip and knee and his right knee was injured, while Danekas suffered a compound fracture of the left leg above the ankle.

Bright Sun Cause of Accident Here Today

Blinded by the sun, L. Siden of this city drove his car head-on into a machine driven by William Orgtjesen this morning at 7:30 at Seventh street and Madison avenue. Siden suffered injuries about the head and body and was taken to the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital by Patrolman Gilbert Glesner who, with Officer James Curran, was called to the scene of the crash.

According to the police Siden was driving east on Seventh street and blinded by the sun, did not observe the Orgtjesen car which was being driven west. Siden's car struck a delivery truck, then crashed head-on into the Orgtjesen car. Orgtjesen escaped with only minor bruises but both cars were badly damaged.

FOURTH AT HYDE PARK

Washington, June 28—(AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that he expected to spend July 4 at his home at Hyde Park, N. Y.

He said at a press conference that a portion of the day might be given over to the legal procedure of turning over to the government the Franklin D. Roosevelt library, on part of his estate, which will be a repository for his official and personal papers.

May Remove U. S.
Citizens from Hongkong Area

Hongkong, June 28—(AP)—A decision in the possible removal of 1,000 American citizens in Hongkong may come tomorrow, it was said tonight as British quarters disclosed they were holding ships ready to carry away women and children if it becomes necessary.

A statement broadcast by the government radio here said instructions had been received from London which indicate that an order for removal of the women and children might be made soon.

This was taken in some circles as indication that Britain had decided to resist Japan's demand for the closing of the Burma (British) route, over which arms have been shipped to China.

It was learned United States authorities have cabled the state department at Washington for permission to instruct the United States liner President Coolidge, arrived here tomorrow from San Francisco, to go to Manila and stand by until further notice.

At the same time, the steamer City of Newport News, which left Hongkong today for America, could be recalled if necessary but the President Coolidge was considered large enough to take all Americans on board.

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 28—(AP)—Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, U. S. senate minority floor leader, was nominated for vice president on the first ballot today by the Republican national convention. The unofficial vote was McNary 890, Dewey Short of Missouri 108.

At Short's wish the convention made McNary's nomination unanimous.

In Washington, McNary had said he did not want the nomination, but had told convention leaders he would be "a good soldier" and accept if nominated.

Reassembling to choose a vice president after the wild stampede that early today had swept the New York utilities man into the presidential nomination, delegates heard that Willkie wanted McNary.

Shortly before they met, Willkie had outlined to reporters

The Scoreboard

Philadelphia, June 28—(AP)—The race between the three leading candidates in the Republican presidential balloting went like this:
First ballot: Dewey 360; Taft 189; Willkie 105.
Second ballot: Dewey 338; Taft 203; Willkie 171.
Third ballot: Dewey 315; Taft 212; Willkie 259.
Fourth ballot: Dewey 250; Taft 254; Willkie 306.
Fifth ballot: Dewey 57; Taft 377; Willkie 426.
Sixth ballot: Willkie 998.

what he regarded as the outstanding issues of the campaign. He listed them as "national unity, building an adequate national defense and rehabilitation of the national economy."

Plans Develop

Other plans for the campaign were being developed rapidly.

Formal notification ceremonies probably will be held at Elwood, Indiana, Willkie's birthplace, to launch the campaign.

Willkie said at a press conference that his victory was a 47-day "expression of the people" and that he would make a very aggressive and widespread campaign.

He also expressed the view congress should stay in session because of "the difficult international situation."

Wendell Willkie, the business man who mused his hair and turned into a politician overnight, won the presidential nomination after the wildest balloting spree of any recent convention.

Won on Sixth Ballot

He wrested the title from whooping delegates on the sixth ballot shortly after midnight, Thomas E. Dewey of New York, his forces badly battered, and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan had freed their supporters to join the mad rush toward the blustering New York utilities executive.

Senator Taft of Ohio, his lines crumbling in the stampede, finally fell before the onrush. Then the result was declared unanimously.

Only the vice-presidential nomination and the closing convention formalities remained to be disposed of this afternoon by the delegates, weary from the late night session and hoarse from two days of shouting.

Senator Taft and Vandenberg, along with Dewey, turned second place aside, Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican floor leader, was understood to be Willkie's choice but it was not known whether he would accept.

The 48-year-old Willkie, never

EDITORIAL

WENDELL WILLKIE

An unbosomed Republican convention at Philadelphia last night disregarded old line politics and named the choice of the people as the Republican candidate for president of the United States. We predict his election and a new era for this great nation.

Willkie is a strong man—a man of the people, who has risen through sheer force and honesty and ability to high places. He is a bitter opponent of the New Deal but is big enough to point out its few advantages, which he would salvage. He is a thorough-going American and stands for all that good Americans want. He subscribes to the Republican platform, including the section devoted to strong preparedness against foreign aggression.

This afternoon or tonight we hope to see the selection of a nominee for vice-president who will be equally outstanding. The Republican party, with a strong national ticket and such a powerful state ticket as we have in Illinois, should look forward with confidence to the November elections.

Wendell Willkie
Goes Into Fight
With 'Dukes Up'

Philadelphia, June 28—(AP)—Wendell Willkie's knock-down and drag-out battles with the new deal's Tennessee Valley Authority furnished the basis for the meteoric career in Republican politics which won him the party's presidential nomination.

A utilities executive, lawyer and Indiana corn-and-hog farmer, Willkie has been a registered Republican but two years. He supported President Roosevelt and the Democratic ticket in 1932 and remained favorably disposed to the new deal for some years thereafter.

Coming finally to fundamental differences with it, he expressed his criticism of the administration and his own approach to problems of governments in these two major points:

1. That such social and economic reforms as are necessary, including government regulation of business, should be accomplished by "laws expressly stating objectives and methods and not by commission regulations."

2. That these reforms should be enforced by a government "friendly" to business.

Keeps His 'Dukes Up'

Willkie has had little practice in speaking his mind. Whether attacking Wall Street or the new deal he goes into battle as he terms it, with his "dukes up."

His life has been one of action. Born 48 years ago at Elwood, Ind., he worked at a variety of jobs in his youth and while going to school. Later he practiced law and served in the army.

Today he is president of Commonwealth & Southern, $1,200,000 utilities firm, that operates companies in the south, Michigan and the mid-west. He spends vacations at the 1,500-acre corn-hog farm near Rushville, Ind.

Willkie's parents both were practicing lawyers. His mother was the first woman admitted to the Indiana bar.

Willkie had an average, rough-and-tumble, small town boyhood, growing up with two sisters and

Rival of Winner
Predicts His Election

Philadelphia, June 28—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, told a jammed press conference today he intended to resign Monday from the presidency of the Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, public utility holding company.

Willkie arrived late for a press conference after a closed, important meeting in his hotel room and laughingly announced, in response to questions, that he had already accepted the Republican nomination but that the time for the formal acceptance speech had not been determined.

"Don't spread any rumors," he said with a grin, seated on the edge of a desk in the glare of a battery of desk lights. "I've already accepted."

Willkie said he expected to have a series of conferences before the day is out concerning the selection of a chairman for the Republican national committee. He said, however, that he thought the selection of a vice presidential nominee was "a job for the convention."

To Go to Convention

Regarding his formal acceptance speech, Willkie said he probably would deliver it at Elwood, Ind., where he was born, but said that had not been decided definitely.

Mayor George Bonham of Elwood and his wife, who went to school with Willkie, attended the press conference.

Willkie disclosed that he would go out to the convention this afternoon but "not to make a speech, just to say hello."

In response to a question, Willkie said he would be "delighted" to see President Roosevelt at any time, adding he had seen him on several occasions.

"I think one should be courteous to his predecessor," Willkie said, amid laughter.

Victory in November for Willkie was forecast today by one of his rivals for the nomination, Frank Gannett, New York publisher.

In a statement he said:

"The Republican party in an unbosomed convention has chosen its standard-bearer and this is the time when the whole country must rally behind him. The future of America will depend on the outcome of the election in November. I am confident Mr. Willkie will wage a vigorous and successful fight."

Bernard Frazer, Jr. of Dixon Is Chosen
Boys' State Auditor

Springfield, Ill., June 28—(AP)—Led by "Governor" Louis Condon of Rock Island, newly elected officers of the American Legion's Boys' State took over the state-house today.

The 1,500 boys encamped at the state fairgrounds for a week of citizenship training first held a session of their "legislature" and then moved to the Capitol building to permit their state officers to briefly occupy the chairs to which they were elected yesterday.

Condon, just graduated from Rock Island high school where he won honors as an extemporaneous speaker, defeated Kenneth Anderson of Chicago in the governorship election. Other officers elected were Percy Mestman, Chicago, lieutenant governor; Robert Clement, Peoria, secretary of state; James Courtney, Joliet, auditor; Bernard Frazer, Dixon, superintendent of public instruction; J. Hal O'Connor, DeKalb, attorney general; Jerry Berman, Chicago, Supreme Court clerk.

The encampment, sponsored by the American Legion, will end tomorrow.

Grasps Wire to Keep

Quincy, Ill., June 28—(AP)—John Johnson, 19, was electrocuted today when he grabbed a fallen high-tension wire to avoid falling into a roadside ditch.

He and Charles Clark, a commercial bait dealer, were on their way to seine minnows when they found the road east of Quincy blocked by an electric power wire pole that had been blown down in a storm last night.

Clark attempted to drive around the pole and his automobile slid into ditch. Johnson got out to direct Clark out of the ditch, slipped and grasped a wire in falling.

Two promising young artists will provide the solo for this week's band concert. The cornetist Ward Clark gained his experience in the Rockford high school band. He is a pupil of cornet of Mr. Clarence Gates. Ward is a conscientious student and he is considered a valuable addition to the brass section of the 129th Band. Next week Ward's talented brother, James, will present his own composition, a solo for snare drum. James is a successful teacher of drum in the Gates School of Music, Rockford.

The vocal soloist for this week is our own Robert Kump. Bob's ability as a singer has earned for him first position in State School Music contests. His fine baritone voice possesses excellent timbre and quality. He sings clearly and intelligently. The name of Robert Kump should become known in the vocal world. Robert is a pupil of Arnold Thomas.

Since the beginning of the present season, Captain Bronson has placed on each program a musical number which is representative of the musical culture of some one of the recently subjugated small European nations. This week, the band will play the heroic "Danish Festival Overture" which was composed by Tchaikovsky in commemoration of the nuptials of the Russian Tsarevitch Alexander and Dagmar, Danish Princess. This work, Tchaikovsky claimed to be far superior to the better known "1812" and "March Slave." From the gifted imagination of M. L. Lake has come his idea of the origin of the tune, dear to the hearts of all Americans, "Yankee Doodle." Born of the winds which whistled through the ships rigging during a "Storm at Sea" the favorite of Revolutionary days passes through several stages of development until as "Grand Opera" it takes its place in the musical "Hall of Fame."

Nachusa Circle Gives Party for MayBel Stanley

Last evening saw members of the Nachusa Teacher's Reading circle assembling at the home of Mrs. Lee Lambert on Logan avenue for a pre-nuptial party complimenting Miss MayBel Stanley. On Sunday afternoon, Miss Stanley will become the bride of Ralph W. Cross of Sterling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perley Cross of Ashton.

Miss Grace Jacobs, president of the circle, was Mrs. Lambert's co-hostess. Pink candles lighted the dining room for a scramble supper. Overhead, streamers of white crepe paper and a cluster of silver wedding bells formed a canopy extending from the chandelier.

Pink icing trimmed a wedding cake in the center of the table. Mixed bouquets of garden flowers completed the decorative motif.

Before leaving for downtown for a theatre party, the group presented the honoree with an electric iron.

Guests numbered Mesdames William Finch, Theodore Seavy, Ray Herbert, Charles Redebaugh, Lee Rossiter, I. B. Potter, John Spangler, Earl Mumma, Sidney Heagy, Grace Stanley, Amos Conley of Grand Detour, the Misses Emma Butler, Marian Hahn, Mary Wolf, Dorothy Olman, Retta Jean Keithley, and Miss Stanley.

Grand Officers to Be Guests of O. E. S., Here

A dozen or more grand officers, Order of the Eastern Star, have made reservations for tomorrow evening's official visit being planned by Dorothy chapter at Brinton Memorial Masonic temple. In addition to Mrs. Lulu E. Benson, of Oak Park, worthy grand matron, the worthy grand patron, Dr. Alfred N. Moore of Chicago, and Mrs. Moore, who is grand representative of Mississippi, will be among the distinguished guests.

Reservations have also been received from Springfield, Detroit, Davenport, Rockford, Freeport, and nearby chapters. Between 150 and 180 guests are expected.

A 6:30 o'clock dinner will precede the 8 o'clock initiatory ritual. Several members of the local chapter will be traveling to Polo earlier in the day, to attend Mrs. Benson's official visit to the Polo chapter at 2 o'clock.

DECATUR GUESTS

Mrs. J. S. Bradford and daughter and son, Miss Muriel and Louis Bradford, of Decatur, will return to their home tomorrow after a week's visit with Mrs. Bradford's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Shultz, at the Amos M. Sharp residence on North Ottawa avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lindamood of Decatur are expected to arrive this evening for a weekend visit with Mr. and Mrs. Shultz.

With Summer Theatre Group

Miss Dorothy F. Fellows, pictured here, has been seen in a succession of outstanding character roles behind the footlights of Hlmi hall in Grand Detour, since the summer theatre opened last year. During the fall and winter, she remained with the company, working under the direction of Richard Vernon in his Playbox theatre in Chicago, her roles including Elizabeth Clochesy in "Goodbye Again", the lead of Ann Whitman Murray in "Yes My Darling Daughter", Miss Jenny in "Dark Victory", Lady Bracknell in "The Importance of Being Earnest", and the lead in the final play of the season, Emily Madison in "Post Road".

Last season, Miss Fellows was assigned to the characterizations of Madame Boucicault in "Let Us Be Gay", Marie Ducret in "The Trial of Mary Dugan", Christine Linden in "Doll's House", and the French Countess in "It Pays to Advertise".

In this week's show, "Cappy Ricks", Miss Fellows is seen as Aunt Lucy Ricks, sister of the blustering Cappy.

READING CIRCLE HOLDS PICNIC

Members of the Thursday Reading circle and their families were picnicking yesterday at Lowell park. Thirty guests enjoyed the baked ham dinner which concludes the circle's calendar for the season.

Mrs. L. W. Miller, the club president, was in charge of arrangements.

BRIDGE CLUB
Mrs. Charles Sworn, Jr., was hostess to her afternoon bridge club of eight yesterday. Mrs. Kent Leeper of Grand Detour, Mrs. Frank Vandenberg and Mrs. Sworn shared score favors, next hostess.

Mrs. Curt Johnston is to be the hostess.

Grover Wilhelms Entertain for Affianced Pair

Friends and relatives of Miss Leone Ort have fitted as many parties as possible into her crowded calendar during the past few weeks preceding her marriage to John W. Mills, now but two days distant, the ceremony having been set for 4 p. m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian church. Last night, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Wilhelms were entertaining for the bride-to-be, inviting some 20 guests to their home for an informal evening of moving pictures and visiting.

The pictures included scenes from the Wilhelm garden and films sent from California by their daughter. Afterward, the guests presented Miss Ort and her fiancé with an all-white breakfast set.

The Wilhelms' guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moulton and daughter Julia of Franklin Grove, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Ort, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shuck and son Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lebre, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Voight of Oregon, Mrs. Margaret Cleary, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Walter Cronwell, Miss Emma Smyth, Eugene Bates, Robert Wilhelms, and the affianced pair.

MENDOTA GIRL TO BE BRIDE ON SATURDAY

Miss Marion Blair of Mendota will become the bride of Dale Simon of Algonia, Iowa, at 4 p. m. Saturday in a simple nuptial ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 807 Fifth avenue, Mendota. The Rev. F. J. Doenecke of Naperville will officiate.

Miss Doris Blair will be her sister's only attendant, and Robert Friese of Bensonville is to serve as best man.

Following the wedding service, a wedding dinner will be served at the Lantern Shop at Troy Grove. After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at Algonia.

The bride is a daughter of the Lyle H. Blairs of Mendota. Mr. Simon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Simon of Chamberlain, S. D.

MRS. SCALES AND MRS. WILLETT ARE BRIDGE HOSTESSES

Thirty-four guests circled flower-trimmed tables for luncheon at a local tea room yesterday, with Mrs. Robert Scales and Mrs. Charles Willett presiding as co-hostesses. Afterward, pastel-shaded tallies were distributed for contract bridge.

Score favors were unwrapped by Mrs. J. R. Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Merion M. Menier, Mrs. Anna Wilson, and Mrs. Harry Newcomer at the close of play. Mrs. Kreider Woods and Miss Virginia Johnston of Sterling were out of town guests.

ENROLLS FOR SUMMER COURSE

Miss Mary Bennett, daughter of Mrs. J. Frank Bennett of Grand Detour, who recently received a bachelor of arts degree at Mundelein college, has enrolled at Northern Illinois State Teachers' college in DeKalb for a summer course in practice teaching. Miss Bennett, who formerly attended St. Mary's of Notre Dame for two years, having chosen French for her major and English for her minor.

Jerome F. Morse Claims Bride in Galena Nuptials

June's last Wednesday, marking the bridegroom's thirty-third birthday anniversary, was chosen by Miss Elizabeth Coatsworth, youngest daughter of the J. W. Coatsworths of Galena, for her marriage to Jerome F. Morse, Jr., of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Morse, Sr., of 123 East Second street. The nuptial vows were solemnized at 3 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, with the Rev. Wayne W. Hoxsie, pastor of the South Presbyterian church of Galena, reading the single ring service.

Miss Florence Coatsworth of Janesville, Wis., sister of the bride, played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" by Wagner as the processional.

The bride was wearing white silk marquisette, with an elbow-length veil held in place by orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, presented by the bridegroom, and she carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers. Mr. Coatsworth gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Lois Morse of Dixon, the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor. She chose a pastel-shaded gown of marquisette with a matching colonial bouquet, and a coronet of green and yellow flowers.

Ralph Moore of Dixon served Mr. Morse as best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served for members of the immediate families. Later in the evening, the bridal pair was honored at a birthday dinner at the Morse home on Second street.

When Mr. and Mrs. Morse left on their wedding trip, which will take them through northern Wisconsin, Michigan and Canada, the bride was wearing a black and white ensemble with white accessories, accented by a corsage of orchids. After July 15 they will be at home in Chicago.

Mrs. Morse was graduated from Galena high school and attended the University of Illinois, where she became affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She has been employed in Chicago.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Fargo, N. D., high school and Ripon college, Ripon, Wis., is employed in the loan department of the Reconstruction Finance corporation in Chicago.

MENDOTA PAIR REVEALS BRIDAL

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Emma Barth and George Otterbach of Mendota, which took place June 18 at the Otterbach country home east of Mendota. The Rev. W. Z. Dial, a former pastor of the Troy Grove church, performed the ceremony, witnessed only by a small party of relatives and friends.

MRS. BASTIAN ENTERTAINS

Mrs. E. M. Bastian invited 20 guests to her home on Assembly Place, Wednesday, to make up tables for contract bridge. Mrs. Harry Quick, Mrs. Arthur Crom, and Mrs. Gavin Dick were fortunate in the games.

Some additions that add color and "difference" to potato salad: shredded raw carrots, chopped green peppers, hard-boiled eggs, chopped celery, sweet pickles, cucumbers, pimientos.

Patio Decoration

BRENDA MARSHALL—lovely Hollywood star, calls this charming summer frock her "patio dress." Of natural cotton, hand-blocked in wine and sage green, it has a halter top and a full, swirling skirt shirred to the rather low waistline. There's a bolero jacket to match.

Past Presidents Have Dinner Party

Ten members of the Past President's club of the American Legion auxiliary were having dinner together last evening at a Grand Detour tea room, preceding a business meeting and election of officers at the home of Mrs. Louise Withers on Highland avenue. Officers elected were:

President, Mrs. Dorothy Teschendorf; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Withers; chaplain, Mrs. Lila Wagner. The club members concentrate their efforts on aiding ex-service nurses in the various hospitals.

Flavoring with herbs has become increasingly popular in the past two years—many enthusiastic cooks even cherishing miniature herb gardens in apartment windows, floors above city streets. It's fun to experiment, but, generally speaking, the most popular culinary herbs are used as follows: Sage, in stuffings, sauces and beverages; basil in slow-cooked soups, tomato dishes and fish; majorum in soups and meat and poultry dressings; savory simmered into pea soup or scattered over roast pork; mint in drinks, in sauce for roast lamb, in some vegetables.

Wear ERZINGER'S Beautiful HOSIERY!

NEWLYWEDS VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ritchie of Reinbeck, Iowa, a June bride and groom of yesterday, are including Dixon on the itinerary of their wedding trip. They will be guests of the bride's uncle and aunt, the Walter Thompsons, until Sunday.

GRAEHLING REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Emmert and Mrs. Emmert's father, George Graehling of near Dixon, expect to go to Lanark on Sunday, to attend the annual Graehling reunion at the George Wales home. The clan has been holding reunions for 35 years or longer.

Getting away from the rather hard, brilliant colors so frequently used on garden furniture, wrought iron pieces of delicate design this season are done in softer shades—dusty pink, soft blues and greens. A rich mellow finish can be obtained by giving an overglaze of raw sienna and burnt umber.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Save Lives on the Fourth

"Save a life instead of taking lives!"

This is the suggestion of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness in its campaign against the sale and use of fireworks in the celebration of the Fourth of July.

Last year Illinois ranked third on the list of forty-eight states in the amount of injuries resulting from fireworks during the celebration of Independence Day. At least 538 persons suffered from injuries to the eyes, hands, face and other parts of the body during the 1939 celebration of the Fourth in Illinois.

Of the thirteen deaths in the United States last year caused by fireworks during the Fourth of July season, one occurred in Illinois. The Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness reports that although the number of such injuries and deaths is decreasing in the state, the annual total is still far too great, especially since the use of fireworks by anyone, young or old, has no real civic value.

The society, in turn, encourages civic celebrations where the public as spectators can enjoy fireworks, with the handling of the explosives left to experts.

In asking Illinois residents to "save a life instead of taking lives," it urges that they contribute what funds they may spend on fireworks to the American Red Cross. By doing so Illinois residents will be protecting themselves from fireworks and at the same time aiding the Red Cross in its humanitarian efforts to aid those people who are in more unfortunate circumstances.

TVA Is Here to Stay

Many of the things that have been accomplished during our decade of depression are here to stay. It is a notable thing that in the current discussion of political platforms for 1940, almost nobody believes in a complete return to 1929, even if that were possible.

Social security measures, like bank deposit insurance, the SEC, old age pensions, unemployment insurance, labor relations acts and the like are all a part of democracy's adjustment to the technological age. Many attack their present forms, many attack their techniques and administration. But there are few voices for complete repeal and a return to 1929.

A case in point is that of Wendell Willkie, sensational dark horse in the Republican presidential race. Willkie, head of a giant utilities combine, has had his share of tangles with the Tennessee Valley Authority. No one fought it more straightforwardly, more openly, nor more effectively. He didn't like the way it was built or expanded, and he doesn't like the way it is run, but it is there. The dams are built. The distribution system has been built and acquired. No President, Willkie believes, can turn the clock back.

It should now be operated for a test period, say, of five years, Willkie suggests. Then, after close bookkeeping has shown what its real costs are as compared with the cost of privately produced electricity, the country can democratically decide whether to extend or contract this field.

Memphis, for instance, became a year ago the first large city in the United States to own and operate all of its public utilities, gas, electricity, and water. The saving to the people of Memphis in that year has been enormous, at least $2,500,000. A million kilowatts a month more in residential service alone is being consumed. Savings of from 25 to 40 per cent in utility bills have actually raised the standard of living of Memphians.

The only question is: Has this desirable result been achieved at the expense of the taxpayers of the rest of the country? The TVA idea has been based on the expectation that eventually the whole vast system will pay for itself—reimburse the taxpayers of the United States for an advance made largely for the benefit of a section.

Willkie is quite right in suggesting that the books of this enterprise should be kept in such a way that the American people will know exactly what TVA is costing them.

Who pays, and how much? Who gets the benefits, and what are they? Careful scrutiny should be kept of these factors, for on them will depend future policies that may well transform the country.

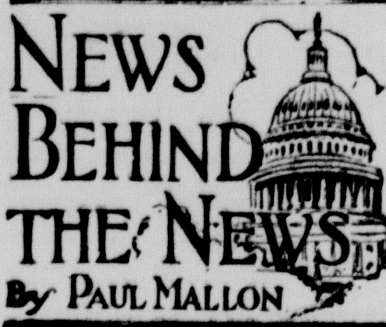

Amid Defeats, a Victory

Paul Satko has reached Ketchikan.

He is in Alaska, his promised land. His family is with him, and despite seasickness, a burned-out bearing in the 1926 auto engine that drives his homemade Ark of Juneau, and two groundings on sand-bars, they accomplished what waterfront men in Takoma said was impossible.

For 56 days they struggled northward. There is still a long voyage to Cook Inlet, his destination. Whatever protection and help is needed to get this family safely to their destination should be provided.

Satko's resourcefulness, his iron will, his sheer courage, are a triumph of individualism in a world which begun to question its value. A country which can produce even one man like Paul Satko is not yet in the decrepit condition which some people like to imagine.

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Philadelphia, June 27.—The platform was hacked by so many saws it got to be sawdust before they finished.

For instance: While those experienced political lumbermen, ex-Senators Edge and Pepper were out of the committee room listening to Hoover's speech one night, the peace-by-all-means group jigsawed the foreign relations plank back around again into a strictly isolationist position. Only Pepper's threat to storm out of the convention next day brought it half-way to a declaration for "non-involvement, but..."

This was only an incidental enactment of the history of most planks in all platforms. Declarations of principles by large groups must encompass so many varying viewpoints as to become meaningless if they are not to be exclusive. In practice they turn out to be, not a set of commandments but a tent stretched as large as possible to welcome any man of any viewpoint who would come under its shelter. This one was bigger than Barnum & Bailey's and made of rubber.

One platform lumberjack said as he emerged, drooping and perspiring from the days of labor said: "We might have been better off if we had cut it to eight simple words:

"We promise a sensible business administration of government."

The candidate will be the platform this year as usual.

Comparatively restrained floor demonstrations have kept the fact from press and radio that an emotional fervor—more patriotic than partisan—has stirred the delegates to this convention from the start.

A few hours after Churchill said the French fleet—vital to our Atlantic breastworks—had fallen into Nazi hands, a stirring scene was staged impromptu in a famous downtown restaurant crowded with delegates and their ladies. An organist, starting the tune "God Bless America," soon found persons arising in the chorus, joining one by one in the chorus, until, at the end, the vigorous outburst of several hundred voices completely drowned him.

The tune has been the theme song of the convention, not by choice of the arrangers (who omitted it from their initial programs) but by selection of the delegates.

A sore throat and a sorer delegation situation are what killed Herbert Hoover's ringing speech, the best of the convention and the flattest. Hoover had to see a doctor shortly before he went to the rostrum. His squeaks were not suited to the hall amplifiers, although he was heard much better over the radio.

Republican political doctors also had worked among the delegates to make sure Hoover did not receive so much approbation as to put him in the leading candidate class.

Closest candid picture of Hoover's somewhat tragic situation comes from a right hand man to John Lewis. It is the explanation of the apparently impetuous declaration the CIO boss made for Hoover here just before the convention, to-wit:

Lewis believes Roosevelt mangled the national labor board set out by bad management. He found he could never talk to Roosevelt, who generally made him listen. Hoover on the other hand, has always been personally congenial with Uncle John.

Hoover's political downfall was not due to the economic collapse but to his lack of knowledge about politics. He has learned much since he was president. He is now the best equipped man in the country to be president especially in view of the existing international situation.

All this is true. I believe a majority of delegates would concede it. But the technical handicap of his unsuccessful political experience was too much to overcome.

Lobby lore—widest spread convention story was the one attributed to Alice Roosevelt Longworth to the effect that Bob Taft was good at playing horse shoes but he always forgot to remove the horse...

They declared frankly that German diplomats had advised Carol to meet Moscow's demands but had told him that relinquishing of the territory was only a temporary adjustment, and that Germany "definitely will settle things later."

There was every indication that the Soviet ultimatum and advance into Bessarabia and Bucovina took the Germans completely by surprise.

Wealthy German landowners and German experts employed in the territory now being occupied we like Taft, and we don't want to offend a native son like Willkie. He thought they probably would vote for Vandenberg.

Mrs. Alice Beede was in Chadwick on Wednesday transacting business.

Helen and Paul Jolly have been visiting friends in Peoria.

Balkan States—

While world attention shifted to the Balkans, the major European struggle between Britain and the Nazi-fascist axis powers was marked by new German air-raids over the British Isles and the torpedo-sinking of a deeply-laden 8,000-ton German transport by a British submarine off the south coast of Norway.

Sinking Furnishes Clue The sinking incident, though comparatively minor in itself, may have disclosed one of the first clues of the scene chosen by Hitler for his heralded invasion of England.

If the German transport were a troop ship, laden with soldiers en route to Norway, it may indicate that the Nazi Fuehrer has decided on the conquered Scandinavian kingdom as a springboard for his assault.

A few minutes before a Soviet ultimatum expired yesterday King Carol agreed to give up Bessarabia, Northern Bucovina, and rights in important Black sea ports.

Rumania herself was cut off from all communication with the World at 10 p. m. Rumanian time last night.

Rumania's neighbors clamored that their claims, too, must be heeded. Hungary wants Rumania's large western province of Transylvania. Bulgaria claims southern Dobruja.

In the war in the west German bombers raided Britain for the seventh time in 10 days, ranging from southeast England to southwest Scotland. The British government said there was "no serious damage" and "very slight casualties."

Double Anniversary

Today is a double anniversary for embattled Europe. Twenty-six years ago Gavrio Prinsip fired the shots that touched off the World War through the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his wife, 21 years ago Germany acceded to the treaty of Versailles ending that war.

Berlin papers took note of the latter anniversary to comment that that treaty is "now dead." England's powerful Conservative party pledged continued whole-hearted support of former Prime Minister Chamberlain in the government's determination to fight to victory.

The party vigorously denied suggestions that Chamberlain might head a "surrender cabinet" to talk terms with Hitler.

Equally firmly, German sources denied other reports that Germany has made a "sensational" peace offer to leave Britain's empire untouched, but require internationalization of Gibraltar and the Suez canal.

German troops raised the Nazi Swastika on the French side of the Spanish frontier at Hendaye, completing the Atlantic coast occupation provided in the armistice with France.

GERMANS SURPRISED

(By The Associated Press) Bucharest, June 28.—Soviet Russia's swift, bloodless acquisition of a huge expanse of Rumanian territory was labeled by German legation officials today as a British trick to make Germany fight on a new war front in the Balkans.

But, they declared, Germany is carefully staying out of any such trap.

They declared frankly that German diplomats had advised Carol to meet Moscow's demands but had told him that relinquishing of the territory was only a temporary adjustment, and that Germany "definitely will settle things later."

There was every indication that the Soviet ultimatum and advance into Bessarabia and Bucovina took the Germans completely by surprise.

by the Red army fled to Bucharest late last night and early today like ordinary refugees, without any warning.

Legation Bitter The legation quarters declared bitterly that Russia had moved, aided and abetted by Britain to take advantage of German pre-occupation in the west with the war with Britain.

These Germans alleged that the British ambassador to Moscow, Sir Stafford Crappa, had "pushed" Stalin into Rumania in an attempt to create a new embarrassment for Germany and to cause the reich to turn her attention away from the west.

They asserted that Germany would not be fooled by this "maneuver" at this time.

They declared openly that the reich cannot permanently permit the Soviets to dominate the mouth of the Danube and northern Bucovina because of the potential long-range military danger and the possibility open to Russia to block Germany's approaches to the Black Sea.

IL DUCES HANDS OFF

Rome, June 28.—(AP)—An Italian authority said today that Italy, working closely with Germany in diplomatic action in the Balkans, would not oppose Russian action in Rumania.

The Italian view, as defined in unofficial quarters, is that Italian public opinion would welcome a peaceful settlement of Soviet claims on Rumania. Dispatches from Bucharest indicated Rumania would accept such a solution.

In government circles it was said Italy was kept informed of the Soviet-Rumanian situation and was studying it "with reserve."

Italy, it was said, was carrying on only "normal diplomatic activity in view of the delicacy and importance of the question."

Asked if Hungary had presented any demands on Rumania, an Italian spokesman said nothing had come to his knowledge officially. Consequently he was not able to answer whether Italy would support any such request.

But an authoritative fascist pointed out that Italy constantly has backed Hungarian claims.

SERIAL STORY

Ticket to Hollywood

BY W. H. PEARS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY Jerry Finney gives Francie a "crash" takes her to luncheon and for a drive in the evening. When Jerry kisses her, Francie is thrilled, but something is lacking. In the studio, the next day, Francie meets Gusti, trying to get in to see Koon. She snubs Gusti, and he watches her leave, amazed by her failure to recognize him.

CHAPTER XI

FRANCIE danced lightly over the rest of the day, her head in the clouds. Gusti Gair, after a few hours of remorse, had become a shadowy figure outside the shimmering fringe of her dream world. At times he tried to push through and tantalize her conscience, but Francie fought off these intrusions.

Jerry Finney brought her back to the hotel late Saturday afternoon. As she walked to her room, Francie caught herself thinking that Jerry hadn't even wished her good luck. He had been too busy talking about his own part in the broadcast.

Aunt Hat bounced up to meet Francie. "I don't know what's got into your father. An hour ago he received a telephone call. He went out in a rush and I haven't seen him since. Now who in the world would call him here?"

Francie had a cold feeling in the pit of her stomach. "I—I don't know, Aunt Hat, unless..."

"You're thinking of Gusti again," Aunt Hat accused.

"No, I'm not!" Francie denied with far more emphasis than was necessary.

At 7 o'clock Aunt Hat said, "Whatever shall we do, Francie? Do you think anything might have happened to your father?"

Francie had bought some theatrical make-up and was making her fresh young face rather grotesque with it. "Of course not, Aunt Hat!"

But as it drew near 7:30 Francie began to share her aunt's nervousness. It wasn't like Pops to be mysterious. But what could she do? She couldn't miss the big moment of her life...

Aunt Hat settled the matter by calling a cab. A page boy examined Francie's ticket, then gave it back. "Hold your ticket," he intoned. "Mr. Rhinegold and Mr. Klump will interview after the broadcast."

ABOVE and on either side of the stage was a glass-fronted booth. In one of these sat a group of people in evening clothes. In the other, four men hovered around an instrument panel. One of them wore headphones; another leafed through typewritten pages.

The curtain rose, revealing a mass of upturned faces. Francie's heart leaped. To be singing before all these people! It was her dream come true. Her throat felt tight and her knees shook.

In the control booth the man with the headphones brought his finger down in an arc. The announcer spoke into the microphone in low pleasant tones. "... Parade of American Youth broadcast. He stepped away from the microphone, and a lank-haired young man began to sing "Roses of Picardy" in a shaky voice.

Jerry stood only a few feet from Francie. Eagerly he waited for him to pick her out of the crowd, to smile encouragement at her; but he had eyes only for the audience. He did a few dance steps, mimicked the young amateur, mugged. A ripple of laughter broke in on the song.

Francie plucked at Jerry's coat. With her lips she formed, "Hello, Jerry."

He turned with a frown, nodded briefly, then moved away from her.

Francie clenched her hands. She felt as if Jerry had stabbed her in the heart. And then, remembering the starched shirts in the glass booth, she understood.

A page boy tapped her shoulder. "Francie Weston?" She nodded, heart pounding. "Your father's back here and wants to see you."

"But I can't leave now. My name may be called any time."

The boy shrugged. "He says it's a matter of life and death."

HER father stood, just off-stage, his face set and grave. "Pops," Francie cried, "What's happened?"

"I've news of Gusti," he said quietly. "I thought you ought to hear it."

"Oh, no!" Francie's eyes were wide. "He—he isn't going to..."

"They were taking an X-ray when I left."

"How—what happened?" Momentarily Francie had forgotten the broadcast, forgotten Jerry—everything but Gusti Gair.

"Gusti was conscious a few minutes," Mr. Weston said. "Gusti was stranded 100 miles from Hollywood. He got enough money on his trumpet to finish the trip, but he arrived broke. Well, some how the young idiot got inside of a studio. They were ready to shoot an automobile smash-up, and the stunt man hadn't appeared. Gusti bluffed himself into the job and just about broke his neck ramming a stone wall."

"Gusti did that?" Francie's eyes sparkled with tears.

Mr. Weston said, "You see, Francie, he was trying to stick it out until the broadcast. He had to have money to rent another trumpet."

Francie's cheeks burned. She looked at the floor. "I—I tried to find him."

"Let's be honest, Francie. You were busy with young Finney."

"B-but, Pops, Gusti can't play now. Why shouldn't I have my chance?"

"If you want it, Francie."

THEY stood in silence a moment. On the stage the orchestra stopped playing. Jerry Finney's voice carried to Francie: "And now, ladies and gentlemen, a clever little lady who sings them sweet and hot—Miss Francie Weston."

"Pops! That's me! It's my turn to sing!" Francie was pale, breathless. "I can go to Gusti as soon as the program's over."

"Yes, Francie, you can. But first, Gusti sent something to you. He had the nurse call all the hotels to find me. He wanted you to have this."

Francie stared. "It—it's his wallet."

"Yes, He never discovered the loss of the ticket."

"And—and he wanted me to have it," Francie choked. "After the way I acted..."

"Yes, dear, and he needs you now."

Jerry Finney's voice was louder, a little irritated: "Miss Francie Weston, please."

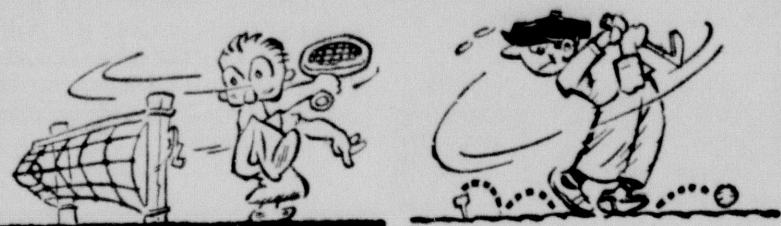

The orchestra played a second introduction. Francie pressed her fingers into her eyes. Just a few quick steps would take her back into her bright world of glamor. But if Gusti died as she sang...

Jerry's voice seemed to come from a great distance: "Last call, Miss Francie Weston..."

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON.

TATTLE TALES

In a Wednesday night tennis match on the new high school courts Harold Peterson defeated George Covert 6-8 before the latter turned around and won two sets 6-1 and 6-2. Father defeated son last night when John Shultz nosed out Bill in a twilight golf match at Plum Hollow; John carded 48 and 52 for 100 while Bill scored 52 and 49 for 101. Bill Bowden, No. 9 in the tennis rankings has challenged Mike Rosenberger (No. 8) to a match tonight.

CONTRACTS LET FOR REFLECTORS

The Dixon board of education is reported to have let the contracts for the light reflectors to the Greybar Electric Company for the lighted field which the Dukes will have when the football season opens on September 13 in a dedication game with Mt. Morris. Erection of the poles will start within a couple of weeks.

SUNDAY NIGHT FEATURE

The James Billiards all-stars will probably receive their first real test of the season at the Airport Sunday night when they clash with the highly-touted Woodstock Merchants, an undefeated clan from the Fox River Valley league. Schulte of Belvidere, who will be remembered for his excellent mound work here last season, has been signed to the all-stars' pitching staff. He and Lyle Fordham will compose Sunday night's pitching crew. The Hegler Park girls of LaSalle-Peru will meet the Dixon girls in the preliminary game.

APPRECIATION

Dixon tennis players, members of the racket club, have been enthusiastic in their praise of the new ranking board which has been constructed by Russell Covert and erected at the local courts.

SOFTBALL GAMES POSTPONED

The softball games scheduled for Wednesday night, July 3, at the Airport have been postponed due to the preparations for the holiday and the fact that many players are expected to be out of town. The games will be played at the end of the league schedule in early August. Two non-league games with out-of-town rivals may be scheduled for Tuesday night.

LOUIE'S ADDRESS

If you'd like to drop Louie Bevilacqua a line with a word of encouragement for his efforts in the Florida State League, you may write to him at 206 E. New York Avenue, Deland, Fla.

GAMES AT ASHTON TONIGHT

The second round of the softball games at Ashton will be resumed tonight with the Lee Center team and Franklin Grove meeting in the first game and Chana clashing with the Ashton Sluggers in the nightcap. Monday's games were postponed because of wet grounds and will be played at the end of this round of games.

"DASH" BEHIND THE MASK

If you look through the umpire's mask Sunday afternoon at Reynolds Field, you'll find that the umpire is Frank Daschbach who has consented to call 'em as he sees 'em in the Dixon-Amboy fracas. Frank knows his stuff and is a welcome addition to the umpiring ranks.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE

It isn't often we go on a crusade, but something should be done to prevent one-sided softball games at the Airport. We'd like to go on record as suggesting that all games which show a 10-run advantage for either team at the end of the fifth inning should be called. It's no fun to see anyone get mauled—even the crowds don't like it—and that's the idea of a referee who stops a boxing match. We believe in technical knockout rulings for softball, too.

GAMES AT AIRPORT TONIGHT

Winding up the sixth week of softball in Dixon the I. N. U. and Three Deuces will meet in the first game at the Airport tonight and Kellers and the United Cigars will play in the afterpiece. The Three Deuces club is one of the two undefeated teams of the league.

TOMORROW'S TENNIS MATCH

George Covert, president of the Dixon Tennis club, has announced the tentative lineup for tomorrow's matches here with the Rochelle netmen. Covert will play in No. 1 position with Harold Peterson as No. 2; Alan Wiennan No. 3; Howard Quick No. 4; Bill Bowden No. 5 and Mike Rosenberger No. 6. The match is to start at 1:30 o'clock. Dick Joslyn who expects to be in Chicago tomorrow and Ward Smith who may have to work, will be missing from the Dixon lineup.

Fates Were With Buck Newsom as Detroit Trimmed Browns Last Eve

By JUDSON BAILEY

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Big Buck "Showboat" Newsom

of the Detroit Tigers, one of the poisonous personality kids of the thundering thirties in the major leagues, is a fellow who will tell you it's better to be lucky than good anytime.

Newsom hasn't been beaten

since the season's opening game with the St. Louis Browns and last night he checked off his tenth victory, a 2-1 tally against those same St. Louis Browns.

Old Showboat, who won 20 games in both 1938 and 1939 and probably will repeat easily enough this year, hasn't had any snap maintaining his present winning streak. That's why he knows that good breaks have helped a lot along the way.

In two of his victories he was knocked out of the box before Detroit won. In two other games he was batted out and Detroit lost without his being charged with the defeat. But the fates were never with him any more strongly than last night in St. Louis.

Newsom pitched a capable game, scattering seven hits and striking out six. This performance was shaded, however, by Bob Harris and Bill Trotter, who held the powerful Tigers to three hits.

Two Were Home Runs

The difference was simply that two of Detroit's hits were home runs by Charles Gehring and

Hank Greenberg. That's how victories are born, sometimes at least. This one narrowed the gap on the idle Cleveland Indians to two games.

Another three-hitter last night was Hal Schumacher's performance against the Phillies to get the New York Giants a 7-0 shutout.

"Prince Hal" is another fellow who knows the value of luck in baseball. He had a run of the bad kind earlier this year and lost six games in a hurry during a period when his teammates gave him a total of only six runs.

Then the Giants started hitting for Schumacher and he now has won three in a row. The club supported him with 15 safeties last night.

In the only other action in the major leagues yesterday the Brooklyn Dodgers edged out the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in a tight game in which each team got nine hits.

One of Chicago's was a two-run homer by Bill Rogell in the eighth,

but the Dodgers clambered back in front in the last half of the inning to win.

The victory brought Brooklyn

within a game of the first place

Cincinnati Reds with the Giants hot behind.

Knacks vs. Amboy Here Sunday

United Cigar Team is Nipped at Ashton

KNACKS' LINEUP IS SHIFTED FOR AMBOY INVASION

Dixon Team Seeks Fifth League Victory in Game Here Sunday

PROBABLE LINEUPS
Dixon: Amboy, Flanagan, ss.; Flach, 3b; Carlson, 2b; Leake, 2b; Prestegard, 3b; Jones, if; S. Miller, cf.; Michel, cf; Courtright or Kuhn, if.; Dempsey, ss; Slain, lb.; Windmiller, c.; Hinrichs, p.; Gilroy, p.

Fourth of July explosives will be set off in a pre-holiday display of fireworks Sunday afternoon when the Amboy Skyrockets and the Knacks firecrackers meet at Reynolds field. Given favorable weather, the largest throng of the season is expected to turn out for the event as the two teams meet for their second game of the season. What has happened in the past is water over the dam and just because the Knacks thumped Amboy 11 to 1 in the season opener, is no indication that the same thing is certain when Sunday's game begins.

Following last Sunday's rained out games, the Knacks are still sharing a lead of the Illinois State league with the Shabbona club. Each team has won four and lost one. Amboy, a new member of the circuit this year, has scored three victories in five starts and the mid-county lads have increased in power since their opening game.

Manager Hi Emmert of the Knacks has named his probable starting lineup for Sunday's game with one shift in the batting order. Bus Carlson, able second sacker who is batting .375 has been moved to second place in place of Ellis.

Harry Slain is expected to start this week at first and Courtright and Kuhn have been as alternates for left field defense. That gives a complete batting order of Flanagan ss, B. Carlson 2b, Prestegard 3b, S. Miller cf, G. Carlson rf, Courtright or Kuhn if, Slain lb, Windmiller c, Hinrichs p. Others who may see action before the last of the ninth inning are C. Bohlsen, C. Hunt, J. Miller and Red Ellis.

Counting league and non-league games played this season, Lefty Hinrichs, the star pitcher of the team, has won six of his seven starts. The only loss of the season has been the league defeat at the hands of West Brooklyn on a gloomy Sunday not so long ago.

Gilroy and Frost are expected to be the battery for the invaders. While the Knacks are thus involved here, the other league games will include Steward at Maytown, Lee at Walton and West Brooklyn at Shabbona. All games start at 2:30 o'clock.

Playground Team Issues Challenge to League Clubs

The playground softball team, piloted by Director John Mitchell, feels that there is no longer any need to hide its light under a bushel. The boys are good—and good enough, they contend, to take on a few of the members of the local softball league. Today they issued their challenge to the bigger boys after thumping Nelson, 24 to 2 yesterday for the third straight victory over the hapless invaders.

In yesterday's game at Reynolds field the Nelson lads managed to collect 12 hits, but could push only two runners around the paths. Dixon scored its 24 runs on 17 hits. Schnake was the winning pitcher and he walked two, struck out six. Gehant did the chucking for Nelson and he walked 10 and struck out none.

Alexander, Kelly and Shank each got a home run for the locals and Kelly showed a 1000 batting percentage for the day with three for three. Two base hits were credited to Potts, Cramer, Lair and Shank. Two double plays were executed: Janssen to Potts and Alexander to Cramer.

LICENSED TO WED

County Clerk Sterling Schrock has issued a marriage license to Howard E. Brown and Miss Irene S. Fishback, both of Chicago.

COUNCIL WILL MEET

The regular weekly meeting of the city council will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the city hall. The regular semi-monthly payroll will be presented together with other subjects of minor importance.

TREES DAMAGED

Several fine old trees at Hazelwood were destroyed or badly damaged by the wind which accompanied last night's rain storm, in which four-tenths of an inch of water fell.

FIRE IN GARAGE

The fire department was called to the Fred Bott residence, 702 N. Ashua avenue this morning at 10:45, where a fire had been discovered in the garage. The blaze was extinguished without damage to the building.

WILL BROADCAST

Miss Dorothy Fruin and Winston Atkins will be heard in a radio program over station WBBF, Rock Island, at 11:30 a. m. Saturday. Winston will play selections on the vibraphone, and Dorothy will accompany him on the accordion.

BACK ON OLD TERRITORY

S. M. Zemansky, district sales manager of the typewriter division of Remington Rand, Inc., is welcomed back to this territory which he had served so efficiently for many years. Mr. Zemansky has a personality that inspires confidence and to his many former customers his return will be good news.

TWO MINOR ROBBERIES

Police today were investigating two minor robberies which were reported to have occurred during the night. The Elks club house was entered after a screen had been removed and a window forced, and the cigar case ransacked. About three dollars in cash, candy bars and cigars were reported to have been taken. The refreshment stand on Ottawa avenue and Seventh street was also entered and ransacked and about 60 pennies taken.

WOULD SELL PLANE

It has been learned that the British-Canadian purchasing commission is approaching prominent executives and industrialists in the Midwest and elsewhere with offers to buy their airplanes for military use. Justin W. Dart, general manager of the Walgreen Company, says he has received an offer for his ten-passenger Lockheed 12, and has expressed a willingness to sell if he is guaranteed another plane in its place within a reasonable time.

FOR CITY BEAUTIFUL

An appeal was made to Dixon residents today to mow weeds on vacant lots to improve the general appearance about the city before the Fourth of July celebration and homecoming. A campaign of weed extermination has been in active progress since the first of the week and many vacant lots in all parts of the city have been cleared of weeds. Citizens were requested to abide by the city ordinance and new state law in the mowing of weeds before July Fourth to create a more pleasing appearance for the hundreds of Homecomers who will be in Dixon over the holiday.

CCC VACANCIES

Chairman H. O. Kistler of the Lee county board of supervisors today received notice of vacancies existing in the county CCC enrollment from the office of Clyde E. Buckingham, county certification agent. Lee county's July enrollment quota has been fixed at 11 and applications are now being received by the supervisors of the various townships and at the office of the I. E. R. C. in the Worsley building in this city. Seven vacancies existed in the quota today which are to be filled as quickly as possible. Young men who enroll from Lee county will enter CCC camps in Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois, and any who are interested are urged to apply at once.

GROUP MEETING HERE

About 50 delegates from Lee, Winnebago, Ogle, Stephenson, Whiteside and Jo Daviess counties attended an all-day meeting of Group 1-A of the Illinois Building & Loan league yesterday at the Brinton Memorial Masonic temple. C. W. Allen, Federal Housing Administration counselor, gave an interesting talk at the afternoon session which was illustrated with views of FHA homes in northern Illinois. Franklin J. Stransky of Savanna, Frank Welch of Savanna, representative of unemployment compensation; William Voss, field representative for the Federal Home bank of Chicago; and Harry Goodsett, executive secretary of the Illinois Building & Loan league were other speakers. Mayor William V. Stohower gave the address of welcome at the opening of the meeting.

A new amphibian tank recently designed in Canada has three wheels—one 12 feet high by 6 feet wide, and the other two, for steering, each 6 feet high and 3 feet wide. Each wheel is separately driven.

The modern army autogiro has a speed of about 125 miles an hour. The rotors are engine-started and driven by the same engine that drives the propeller.

In 1929, 3,880,206 new automobiles were registered, a record year. It is estimated that 44 per cent of that number are still in operation.

Western Senator—

before a candidate for public office, learned of his nomination in his hotel suite, crowded with enthusiastic friends.

"Appreciative, Humble, Proud" "I am very appreciative, I'm very humble, and very proud," he said.

"I intend to give everything I have to bring about American prosperity, building an adequate national defense and restoring national unity."

One by one, Willkie howled over the "favorite sons" in the early balloting. Then his drive went in to the camps of the men who three weeks ago had been favored to win the nomination.

First Dewey's lines began to tremble and crack. Dewey released his delegates on the fifth ballot, and there was a drive for Taft, with the workers of Herbert Hoover aiding in the push. But it failed.

The thousands in the galleries, hoarse from hours of shouting "we want Willkie," took up the chant again. Delegations that hesitated or turned against Willkie were booed; then cheered to a raucous shaking echo when they turned back to him.

His nomination went over in the middle of the sixth roll call of the longest nominating fight the Republicans have had since Warren G. Harding was nominated in 1920.

Pennsylvania Missed Chance Pennsylvania had a chance to become the key delegation to turn the nomination to Willkie. Its big delegation of 72 men and women had been giving the majority of their support to Gov. Arthur James, but with a split that spilled more votes to Willkie on each ballot.

When the state was reached on the sixth roll call, Willkie had 438 delegates. The Pennsylvania delegation, voted solidly, would have put him across the line. But the delegation was outside in a caucus and David Reed of Pennsylvania, the former senator, passed.

Eight more states were called and each piled up more votes for the New Yorker. After Virginia had heaped more upon the total, it stood at 499 for Willkie, with the race squarely between him and Taft—and the senator slipping fast.

At this point, the Pennsylvania delegation filed back into the hall. Reed leaped up to report that his state wanted to cast its vote. The 72 votes were dumped upon the Willkie bandwagon.

But it would have gone over a moment later anyway, for Washington threw 10 more after Pennsylvania's 72.

Insisted on Roll Call Governor Bricker of Ohio sought, after the delegates began to fall away from Taft, to make Willkie's nomination unanimous, but Chairman Joseph W. Martin insisted that the roll call be completed to the last poll of protest delegations. For half an hour or more after the issue had been decided, the roll call went ahead while state after state changed its vote to record itself unanimously for Willkie.

When 998 of the 1,000 delegates—there were two absentees—had been recorded for the new candidate, Martin allowed the motion for unanimity to be put. It was carried with an echoing roar of ayes.

That final climatic scene was one such as few conventions see. The end of the fifth ballot and the spectacular gain Willkie had made in it set the galleries to roaring. Tier upon tier, up the steeply banked walls, jamming every aisle, the visitors screamed down to the convention to nominate Willkie.

Martin hammered steadily with his gavel. Delegates and the floor managers for the candidates crowded in the downstairs aisles, conferring, taking delegation polls, trying to figure the next turn.

Word had spread that Hoover had sent word to his friends in the California delegation to swing to Taft. Obviously, the final tug between Taft and Willkie had been reached. California voted 26 for Taft, 17 for Willkie, but in a poll four Hoover votes were weaned from Taft.

Women Shriek As the roll call went ahead, women shrieked with each new Willkie gain. A hat was passed around in the Michigan delegation and into it each delegate, surrendering the pledge that had held him staunchly to Vandenberg through the successive ballots, was dropping a slip of paper that bore his second choice.

Maine passed for the moment. Up to this point, the race was neck and neck. Taft had 147, Willkie 148. Then Michigan was reached, and Howard C. Lawrence, the Grand Rapids banker who managed Vandenberg's campaign, asked to make an announcement from the platform.

"I wish to thank the supporters of Senator Vandenberg," he said in a tired voice. "Senator Vandenberg had just authorized me to release the Michigan delegation. In obedience to his instructions, we have just taken a poll. I will now read the result of that poll."

"It reads, Hoover 1, Taft 2, Willkie 35."

New Jersey Switches His last words were drowned in a mighty roar from the galleries. Men and women leaped up and down. The crowd leaned forward expectantly to watch for the next big change. It came when New Jersey dumped its 32 votes for Willkie, adding six to those it had given him on the fifth ballot.

The hot, piercing glare of the Klieg lights came on in the expectation of a quick nomination. From here on, state after state began to climb on the bandwagon. But Ohio held tightly for Taft, Oklahoma, which on the fifth ballot had given 18 votes to Taft, shifted 13 of these to the 4 it was already giving Willkie.

The crowd tensed, and a hush fell when Pennsylvania was called. Reed arose from a section empty of delegates and asked that his state be allowed to pass. The nomination was in the bag, and the crowd was roaring when his delegation got back with its belated decision.

As the delegates streamed out of the hall, Alf M. Landon, the 1936 nominee, who had turned his Kansas delegation to Willkie two ballots before the nomination, was saying: "The political principles of Mr. Willkie are very much in line with mine."

"I believe he got the nomination free of any commitments or promises that will in any way hamper him in making a splendid, vigorous, competent chief executive."

Nation Honors Lincoln In Washington Memorial

SIMPLE, dignified and grand is America's memorial to Abraham Lincoln, pictured on the U. S. $1 stamp above of the 1922-23 postage issue. The building is one of the noblest expressions of architecture in the country.

The memorial is located in Potomac Park on the great axis of the city as originally designed by the architect Washington selected to beautify the capital. The Washington monument stands beyond a lagoon a quarter of a mile long.

The memorial was designed and its construction supervised by Henry Bacon, New York architect. It has 36 Doric columns, 44 feet high, in a colonnade 188 feet long, 188 feet wide. The memorial hall is 156 feet long, 84 feet wide. Floors and walls are of colored marble.

Inside is a colossal, 175-ton marble statue of Lincoln, executed by Daniel Chester French. On the walls are inscribed the Gettysburg Address and the Second Inaugural. Mural decorations, by Jules Guerin, typify in allegory the ideals in Lincoln's life.

The total cost of the memorial approximates $3,000,000.

Whipped Depression In the midst of the depression Willkie hired 500 new salesmen, offered bonuses to employees to sell electrical appliances and introduced the "objective-promotional rate" by which the company cut the rate and doubled the amount of electricity sold for domestic use.

Willkie's battle with the Tennessee Valley Authority, while the government was negotiating to buy certain Commonwealth & Southern properties, had both Wall Street and Washington in an uproar. He fought the TVA in the courts, before congressional committees and in published articles. His thesis was that the new deal was working toward destruction of the electric utilities industry.

Boosted Price A high Washington source has since declared that Willkie's "shrieking" increased "by $30,000,000 the price TVA had to pay" for the properties. That price was $78,600,000.

Willkie is a strapping 6 foot 1 1/2-inch man who pays little attention to what he eats, is fond of "rat cheese", smokes two packages of cigarettes a day and likes a Scotch highball or two when he knocks off work.

His chief recreations are talking, reading and pig-farming. He also enjoys movie "thrillers". He dresses informally, in loose-fitting dark-blue suits, and wears inexpensive white shirts with soft collars.

three brothers in a three-story, maple-shaded frame house and in a yard overrun with cows, chickens, horses, dogs, cats and children.

Invented Gambling Game As a youngster he swiped apples, beat up boys who jeered at his store clothes and shocked his mother's friends by inventing a gambling game played with Sunday school cards. But when angry neighbors called to complain of bloody noses and other familiar youthful offenses they were likely to find the Willkie children acting Hamlet, with Wendell wearing his mother's old petticoat for a cape.

At Indiana University Willkie was a campus spellbinder who debated socialism and mixed in political fights when he wasn't busy frying eggs in a short-order lunchroom to pay his way. A panic had wiped out his father's savings. To get his schooling he sold papers, collected bills, was a harvest hand and migratory farm worker, ran a cement block machine, made steel, worked on a Puerto Rican sugar plantation, and drove a baker's wagon.

He taught high school history at Coffeyville, Kan., returned to Indiana for a law course, then began practicing with his father. He enlisted in the army the day the United States entered the World War, became a captain and served in France. There he spent part of his time as a volunteer lawyer for court-martialed A. E. F. privates.

Back in this country he met Miss Edith Willk, a librarian, at an Elwood wedding where she was maid of honor and he was usher. Soon she changed her name to Willkie. They have one son, Philip, 20.

Willkie went into the legal department of an Akron, Ohio, rubber company, then joined the Akron law firm of Mather, Nesbitt & Willkie. He led a successful battle in Akron against the Ku Klux Klan and in 1924 he was a delegate to the Democratic national convention.

His success as a lawyer for utilities firms attracted attention of B. C. Cobb, president of Commonwealth & Southern. Cobb induced Willkie to join the company in 1929 and when Cobb's health failed Willkie succeeded him.

ports at the mouth of the Danube as well as railway bases and the great harbor of Constanta, for a naval base. Goering's dream may go up in smoke.

No, I don't believe the nazi fuhrer has invited any such arrangement. Stalin has just beat him to the draw, that's all.

One of the most interesting aspects of this extraordinary situation to me is the Ukrainian angle. The peoples of Bessarabia (former Russian territory) and northern Bucovina are Ukrainians. When Stalin has joined them to the Russian Ukraine he will have united most all the Ukrainians in that part of the world, save a few in the Carpatho-Ukraine which belonged to the now-dismembered Czechoslovakia.

You will recall that after Hitler smashed Czechoslovakia it was reported he was fostering a movement to join into one nation all the Ukrainians, including those in Russia. In this way he might acquire the rich Russian Ukraine which he always has wanted.

Recently it has been reported that the fuhrer was reviving this idea. Whether this be so or not, if Stalin has Bessarabia and northern Bucovina he will have eliminated the chance of Hitler getting a toe-hold on the Russian Ukraine through these territories.

Before ever he came to power Hitler laid it down that Germany must possess the Ukraine in order to feed her people. Nothing has happened in any of his conquests to change the needs of the reich for food supplies. She still is dependent on many imports.

The Ukraine is one of the rich spots of the world. It is among the greatest granaries, provides some 70 per cent of Russia's pig iron, 80 per cent of her coal, 85 per cent of her sugar and virtually all of the manganese used in her industries. The Ukraine itself has huge industrial areas.

Hitler's reasons for wanting the Ukraine are quite apparent. And Stalin has equal reasons for protecting this gold mine.

King Carol must be a very unhappy man, as he waits to see whether he must face further territorial demands from Hungary and Bulgaria.

It is only 20 years ago that I was presented to his father and mother—King Ferdinand and Queen Marie—in London where they were being congratulated on Rumania's acquisitions of territory as a result of the World War. Overnight their little country had become great. Crown Prince Carol was heir to a wonderful heritage. Now a score of years later he sits among the ruins.

Delegates from Illinois Stuck to Dewey Well

Philadelphia, June 28.—(AP)—Illinois' 58 delegates to the Republican national convention went for presidential nominee Wendell Willkie—after doing their duty by Thomas E. Dewey.

The Illinois delegation did not climb aboard the victorious bandwagon until near the finish of last night's session, when state groups tumbled over each other in the rush to make the Hoosier-born nominee's triumph unanimous.

Heading Dewey's heavy vote in the April preference primary, Illinois backed the New Yorker stoutly through three ballots. He got 52 of 58 votes on the first ballot and 45 and 47 on the next two.

From there on, predictions that Illinois' vote would be split widely were borne out, six candidates getting shares at one time or another during the six ballots. Gov. Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania got one on the fourth ballot, six on the fifth; Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan one on the fourth; Frank E. Gannett of New York one on the second, two on the fourth, while Willkie, Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Sen. Robt. A. Taft of Ohio fought it out.

Through three ballots the Illinois delegation heeded the state's April advisory primary, which went heavily to Dewey. Dewey's vote was bigger than some expected at the start and lasted longer, experts having predicted it would break up after the first ballot.

Blowup on Fourth Ballot
The blowup in the Illinois contingent came on the fourth ballot when Dewey tumbled to 17 votes. Taft jumped to 27 and Willkie collected 10. Dewey dwindled from then until he got only one vote on the sixth ballot, that one cast by Col. Robert R. McCormick of Chicago, a delegate-at-large.

Taft's stock in Illinois began with only two votes on the first but after the third he went on to 30 on the fifth and 33 on the sixth and final ballot, while Willkie, starting with four, climbed to 24 on the last ballot.

Illinois began deserting Dewey on the fourth, although Dewey didn't release his pledged delegates until the fifth ballot. Dopesters figured Illinois' early solidity for Dewey was breaking on the fourth when Dwight H. Green, delegation chairman, passed the vote in the regular alphabetical roll of states.

A steering committee including Green, Wayland Brooks, Werner W. Schroeder, Hill Blackett and Walter A. Rosenfield evidently succeeded in holding the delegation together for the first three ballots. Brooks was one of those voting for Willkie, however, on the sixth ballot before it was made unanimous.

Home Made Alarm Puts Ninth Burglar Behind Bars in Kenosha, Wis.

Kenosha, Wis., June 28.—(AP)—The Bullamore brothers have now cooperated in putting nine would-be burglars behind the bars.

Harold A. Soule, 21, Fort Wayne, Ind., pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and was sentenced in Municipal court by Judge Edward J. Reutz to one to three years at Green Bay reformatory.

Soule was captured by the aged brothers Wednesday when he attempted to rob their general store at Somers. A home-made burglar alarm functioned as in the past and the Bullamores caught Soule as he left the store.

Line of March
The huge parade which is expected to be the largest ever presented in Dixon and including many unique entries, will form on Page Drive west of the high school. The parade is scheduled to move at 11 o'clock sharp and proceeding west to Peoria avenue, the line of march is as follows:

South across Peoria avenue bridge to First street; east on First street to Ottawa avenue; south on Ottawa avenue to Second street; west on Second street to Galena avenue; south on Galena avenue to Third street; west on Third street to Monroe avenue; north on Monroe avenue to First street; east on First street to Galena avenue; north on Galena avenue across Abraham Lincoln bridge to Boyd street; west on Boyd street to high school park, where parade will disband.

The official reviewing stand will be located on the platform on Hennepin avenue north of First street where the judges will select the prize winning floats as the parade passes the stand on the first trip east on First street. On the second trip east, large numbers will be placed on the prize winning floats. After the parade has disbanded, the three prize winning floats will return to the midway where they will be on exhibition throughout the remainder of the day.

Hot Dogs Played Part in Growing Willkie Stampede

By EDDIE GILMORE (AP)

Philadelphia, June 28.—(AP)—Heart, stop pounding. That great, big, beautiful thing that zoomed through here early today was a Republican band wagon.

It made a wonderful noise . . . it pipped up sweet political music . . . it hit rhythmically on all 16 cylinders . . . it outdid the juggernaut of India because it didn't crush its followers—it took them with it.

Yes, the big tumbled fellow smiling in the back seat was Wendell Lewis Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee, and the big blond fellow who drove the band wagon through convention hall was Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Willkie's floor manager.

Feet, stop hurting. Sure, those fellows stomped all over you when they rushed for the band wagon, but you don't get in a stampede like that very often.

Gov. Arthur James of Pennsylvania got aboard at 1:38 a. m., pulling the Pennsylvania delegation behind him . . . He was so out of breath from running that he leaned over the public address system and called the party's choice—"Winkie!"

Yes, eyes, that was a former president you saw getting on the band wagon . . . Herbert C. Hoover got aboard at 1:45 a. m., with a telegram he sent convention leaders.

Yes, and that was Governor Bricker of Ohio, who climbed aboard with a white suit and all his 51 Ohioans.

The thousands in the galleries? Why, they got aboard the very first day of the convention, ears. You heard them yelling, "We want Willkie!"

The strange thing, though, was when they finally got him—they didn't holler.

What made the band wagon go? Hot dogs certainly had something to do with this one.

When the Willkie band wagon was just beginning to come around the mountain it had 171 riders . . . That was at the end of the second ballot.

Yes, tummy, that was when everyone went out to get something to eat . . . The time that 7,000 hot dogs were consumed in two hours at convention hall.

And after the hot dogs were down and the delegates came back to their seats, 88 more hopped aboard the band wagon.

There were 1,000 seats for delegates on the band wagon . . . 998 got aboard . . . those other two? . . . They just weren't there to get on, that's all.

According to a recent survey the older a used car is, the easier it is to sell. A car which is older than six years takes an average of 23.1 days to move, but a car only a year old takes 47.4 days to sell. The average turnover period is 27.8 days.

Recently the allies placed an order with an American plane manufacturer for twin-engine attack bombers totaling approximately $23,000,000. The plane is a high-wing, all metal monoplane of 18,000 gross weight.

During the period from 1926 to 1930, the life span of passenger cars increased 46 per cent.

"THE GENTLEMAN FROM INDIANA"

COFFIN DRAPES

Information has come to me that the War Department is asking manufacturers for bids on a total of 150,000 internment flags. These are the flags which are used to drape the coffins of American soldiers and sailors. It is three times the normal order.

Whatever may be said of the Administration's failure to be prepared with planes, tanks, anti-aircraft guns, or modern rifles, it is apparent that it does not intend to be reproached with not having enough flags with which to cover our dead.

It is time for plain talk. As Senator Lundeen has just said, "There is no use to camouflage this bloody business into which we are being led, step by step, into final, total war."

Women of America, it is time for you to wake up.

On June 10, Mussolini committed the Italian people to war. On that same day Mr. Roosevelt, at the University of Virginia, committed this country to a military alliance with Britain and France. Mussolini acted alone. Mr. Roosevelt acted alone. Congress had not authorized him to make an alliance.

If one man in Italy, and one man in the United States can make the peace or war policy of millions of people, what difference is there between Fascism in Italy and Mr. Roosevelt's variety of National Socialism? If Hitler and Mussolini can meet in a railroad car in the Alps and secretly plot the future of millions of people, without action by their legislative bodies, and Mr. Roosevelt, without action by Congress, can fix the fate of the American people, the question is whether we still have a Republican form of government.

Congress alone has the final power to enter into alliance with foreign powers. Mr. Roosevelt has no such right or power.

The President has no power to declare war. Only Congress can declare war. The President may negotiate treaties or alliances, but they are not valid unless the consent of the Senate is given to them. This was sufficiently demonstrated by the Versailles Treaty, the League of Nations, the World Court, and the Guarantee Pact to defend France from aggression.

None of these have ever been agreed to by Congress or the Senate or the people. Mr. Roosevelt attempted, in substance, to declare the Guarantee Pact to be in force years after it had been repudiated, and without any intervening authority to do so.

Mr. Roosevelt has the right to recommend to Congress what treaties, alliances or other public policies he thinks it should adopt. At the time he spoke he had sent no message to Congress advocating an alliance with Britain and France. On the contrary, Senator Pepper's resolution to authorize the President to sell government owned airplanes, etc., to the Allies had twice been voted down by a Senate committee, once by a vote of 12 to 1, and again by a vote of 19 to 2.

Despite this Mr. Roosevelt said flatly that "we will extend to the opponents of force the material resources of this nation." He did not say that he would recommend this course to Congress. He claimed to speak officially for the "nation." This speech was an international broadcast. It was immediately translated into seven languages. It was interpreted in every capital of the world as a military alliance. American newspapers immediately described it as a "pledge" of military support.

It may be that the American people want to make this alliance, the same kind of axis that Italy had with Germany, concluded by two men. It may be that Congress will now ratify it. It may be that the American people want to have plenty of coffin drapes on hand.

But whether Congress decides on a military alliance, or whether Mr. Roosevelt decides on it, it is precisely the difference between a constitutional republic and a Nazi America.

Mr. Roosevelt claims to speak for an "overwhelming majority" of the American people. That may be so. But neither the Gallop poll whipped up by White House scare-heads of submarines off Boston, or bombers over St. Louis, nor Dorothy Thompson, William Allen White, nor any number of college presidents and Anglican bishops constitute the Congress of the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt also violated his platform pledge in 1936 to make no "political commitment" which might draw this country into "any war anywhere." This is a minor matter, perhaps, as the people have become quite cynical of platform pledges.

Mr. Roosevelt's leaders want Congress to adjourn. The people and particularly the mothers in this land, had better insist that Congress stay in Washington. There is no time to lose.

KEEP CONGRESS IN SESSION.

IS IT REALLY WORTH IT?

With the world in the state of chaos in which we now find it, it seems ironical and perhaps a bit foolish to spend so much of our hard earned tax money in the worthless series of explosions that are used to celebrate our Independence day. Truly, we should be very grateful and virtually overflowing with thanksgiving that we are a free people dwelling in the most wonderful nation on God's earth.

Are we overdoing ourselves in spending so much money to present a top-notch celebration?

Shouldn't we be more conservative of our meager funds when so many people are out of employment and need food and clothing? Firecrackers cannot be eaten.

Let us look to our Creator and let our constant prayer to God be that of deliverance from out of this turmoil into which we are rapidly being engulfed.

Again let us reflect and ask ourselves: Is it really worth it?

OH...IT'S SO CRUEL!! THAT MASKED BOY IS TORTURING THE BOB-CAT--BY PUNCHING HIM IN THAT TERRIBLY SORE EYE!!!

CRUEL, FID-DLESTICKS!!! THE OTHER ONE'D DO IT TO THE BOY IF HE HAD BRAINS ENOUGH!! IT'S SCIENCE--THAT'S WHAT IT IS!! HE'S GETTIN' THE BOB-CAT MAD!

PRETTY SOON THE BOBCAT'LL THROW ALL CAUTION TO THE WINDS--HE'LL TRY TO RUSH THE BOY-- AN' THEN--THE BOY'LL NAIL HIM!!! SLAP HIM DOWN, YOUNGSTER!!

That's the Question!

TORMENTED BEYOND ENDURANCE BY THE RE-LENTLESS JABBING, THE BOBCAT AT LAST DOES THROW ALL CAUTION TO THE WINDS-- HE BARGES IN LIKE A WILD BULL---

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

FROM CAMP RALSTON

We went on an overnight hike last night. After rest hour we fixed our bed rolls and "Coke" drove them down the road to the part of the camp that is on the other side of the creek. Both units went, but cooked supper separately. We had hamburgers and onions that we have been asking for since we came.

I wish you could see the swell horse that "Pat" made out of clay. I am going to make one when I finish burning designs on my wooden bracelet. At first we didn't like the idea of making creative crafts, but now we like it so much that we all want to make belts, and skippers, (with original paintings on them).

This afternoon we plan to go to archery again. Janet and a couple of the other kids are shel-lacing more arrows so that more of us can shoot.

The swimming pool has been quite cold this week, but we had fun anyway. "Smitty" led songs all the way over and back. Everyone seems to be humming one song "Waltzing Matilda" since she taught it to us last night. We had an outdoor campfire for both the units last night. "Popcorn" and "Peanuts", the two little girls, sang songs for us, and "Puddin'" whistled. We danced Here We Go Around the Mountain and Skip to My Lou, and then roasted marshmallows.

The food has been kept. We had lemon pie and gingerbread that would melt in your mouth. We are eating seconds because we get so hungry swimming and just being out in the open. We had candy canteen twice this week and other canteen every day. We all like the idea of being able to buy pop every day.

The other day somebody got a paper and all of us wanted to read it. The bus driver brought one and some of the girls read it on the way over swimming. I hope that you save the papers because I'll want to read the funnies and a little about the war, maybe.

"Katy-Did" took our pictures the other morning. She took one of each unit alone, and with their counselors, one of "Coke and Myrtle" and others of the lodge. She says that if we want to get prints off them later we can. She took them especially for the camp book.

So long for now. I am having a swell time. Don't worry about me because we've got a nurse right here if I feel sick.

Lucia.

GRANITE CITY LOSES

Granite City, Ill., June 27—(AP)—The population of Granite City dropped 2,176 in the last 10 years, the district census office reported. Preliminary figures give the Madison county city 22,954 persons now.

In the past six months U. S. exports to Spain have increased 302 per cent over a year ago.

AT GIRLS' STATE

Jacksonville, Ill.—(AP)—Ballot casting for governor featured today's session of the Illinois Girls' State, a civic program held under sponsorship of the Illinois American Legion Auxiliary.

Some 280 girls attending the affair were given the choice of voting for either Mildred Hodson of Vandalia, the "Federalist" candidate, or Jean Livengood of Jacksonville, the "Nationalist" nominee. The two candidates won the nominations when the votes were counted last night.
